Going for a stroll

Staff and students at General Vanier Public School were selected as one of four schools in Niagara to conduct a walking survey to determine how safe certain routes to school are for children. The program, in partnership with Healthy Living Niagara and the Bridges Community Health Centre, allowed students to gain a different perspective on the walk to and from school. Seen here are students Amir Diodonne, Alexa Preston, River Pemberton and Rachael Dobson joined by principal Gary King and health promoter Rhonda Barron.

Not enough data

Coun. Noyes
motions for council to seek third party hospital
review after two years, not five

Kris Dubé
The Times

To reconsider, or move ahead as planned...that is the question local politicians were asking themselves at Monday night's regular council meeting.

They discussed a motion made by Ward 6 Coun. Ann-Marie Noyes to back track on the Town's recent decision to wait until five years to see a third party review conducted on the level of service provided at the Douglas Memorial Hospital (DMH), since it was converted into an urgent care centre.

When an agreement was reached last year between the Town and the Niagara Health System, originally a review was to take place after two years. But at the May 17 council-in-committee meeting, council voted unanimously to stretch that trial period to five years, so more statistical data can be gathered.

YEARS
Niagara Region
Building Community, Building Lives.

Majority says five years, but motion tabled until next meeting

Noyes' motion on Monday was a request to gather support from her fellow councillors to still request a review after two years and again after five years.

"It's important that we continue with solidarity when we question the changes and fight to get back all our hospital services," said Noyes.

"Five years for this type of review is too long," she added.
Ward 1 Coun. Sandy Annunziata said he respects Noyes' intentions with the motion, but said more details need to be provided in order for him to show his full support. The lack of a funding strategy for a review after two then five years is one of his concerns. Also, he feels the reasoning behind the Town's decision to wait until five years, that not enough information to make a case to the ministry of health and long term care can be made available after two years, should be considered.

"I'm still under the impression two years is a little early to provide enough statistical data," said Annunziata.

He also believes supporting the motion without bearing whether physicians staffed at DMI are supportive of a review being conducted after two years is something he wasn't comfortable with. He'd like to hear from the experts first.

"When I have a plumbing problem, I go see a plumber," he said.

About two months ago, Ontario PC leader and Fort Erie native Tim Hudak visited the DMI site for a press conference, saying if he is elected premier, he will re-open the emergency room and dissolve the role of Local Health Integration Networks. Annunziata said if Hudak is elected and able to pull this off, the review won't even be necessary.

"In this climate of politicking, it's very uncommon to hear a politician go out on a limb and make two very bold statements like that," he said.

Ward 4 Coun. Tim Whitfield admitted it is a tough decision, whether or not to support Noyes' motion or to be patient and let all parties involved with the agreement to continue with its dialogue.

"I've learned over the years, there's a time to fight and there's a time to negotiate and do what is best for the community," said Whitfield.

Russ Wilson, the Town's director of community health and wellness ensured members of council that the panel responsible for the review will be fair and not have their minds made up before discussions even begin. The party responsible for the review will consist of members from the Town, the NHS and local physicians.

"Through my interaction with the medical community, they will ensure impartiality," said Wilson.

Wilson continued by saying there are two things that need to be considered when debating whether a review should be conducted after two years.

The first is where the funding will come from for two reviews and the second pertains to the amount of information compiled over a two-year period.

"There is a requirement for a strong sampling of data that's going to support our position and I don't think that's going to happen at the end of two years," said Wilson.

At the end of the discussion, mayor Doug Martin also weighed in with some comments. He agrees with Annunziata, saying a source of funding for two reviews needs to be identified before moving ahead and that two years after the DMI's conversion to an urgent care centre is too soon for a review.

He said the best plan to stick with currently is working diligently to maintain services already in place while gradually restoring services formerly available.

He used the return of a YAG laser for eye surgeries as an example, as it was recently re-instated at DMIH.

"Those are the things we've been able to get back," said Martin.

After nearly an hour of discussion, the motion was tabled until the next council meeting.

June is Brain Injury Awareness Month

Non-profit promotes independent lifestyle for its clients

Kris Dubé
The Times

The Brain Injury Association of Canada has designated the month of June as National Brain Injury Awareness Month and the Head Injury Association of Fort Erie (HIAFE) is proud to be a part of it.

Recently, program director for the local non-profit organization Donna Summerville met with the Times to discuss the variety of programs and services they have been offering to individuals and their families, dealing with acquired brain injuries.

Activities such as a cooking skills class, gardening and fitness programs are a great way for clients to stay active while living an independent lifestyle at the same time.

"We want to give them an opportunity to become more independent," said Summerville.

A struggle some clients have to deal with Summerville says, is holding down a job for a lengthy period of time. She said there needs to be more understanding from people in the community how serious brain injury is and that sometimes those that suffer from one don't operate at the same pace as the average person.

She said most of the clients at the HIAFE are high-functioning but like anyone else...there are good and bad days. She said sometimes they might be feeling down about something taking place in their life and come to the HIAFE's headquarters on the Niagara Parkway for counselling or to spend time with their friends regularly for a few months and then won't hear from them for the same amount of time. It all depends on how things are going in their own personal lives, she said.

"It's like a revolving door. You might see a client for three months and work on an issue with them and six months down the road they're back with another issue," said Summerville.

The HIAFE, founded in 1987 by Jackie Denham and Shirley Athoe, is one of 26 associations of its kind across Ontario.

The organization uses the Fort Erie Accessible Specialized Transit (FAST) service to take clients to various appointments and activities.

For more information on the organization or to inquire about volunteering, contact Summerville at (905) 871-7789.

Shular wins prestigious award

➤ Ward 2 Coun. recognized for many years of service in the community

Kris Dubé
The Times

When Rick Shular attended last Friday's Greater Fort Erie Sports Wall of Fame dinner, he thought it would just be a regular night out on the town.

But once the ceremonies started, the attention was directed at the current councillor for Ward 2.

His colleagues in the Fort Erie Kinsmen Club announced he had been chosen as the most recent recipient of the Hal Rogers Fellow Award, the highest achievement anyone involved in one of the service club's branches can be given.

The award is given to individuals who demonstrate integrity, leadership, and service to the community.

Shular has been a member of the Kinsmen Club for 40 years and served as governor of district one in 1985.

He is also involved in the Fort Erie Masonic Lodge and held the title of deputy grand master in 2000. He is also an active member of the Niagara Shrine Club, which he also held the title of president for in 2005.

In October, Shular will be seeking his third term as councillor for Ward 2.

He said he is honoured to be recognized with this award, joining the list of people who have already received the prize.

He said it is also extra special because he knew Hal Rogers personally and was able to interact with him when he was still active with the service club in the 1980s.

He feels all the fortune he has seen in his life with his upbringing at home, in school and in his social life is what inspires him to be so active in the community.

"You need to get back what you get," he said.

Was that really an earthquake?

➤ Some residents felt it while others didn't notice anything

Matt Day
The Times

No, that wasn't a construction crew working directly outside your door or a low flying plane overhead on Wednesday at around 1:40 p.m.

That indeed was an earthquake.

A 5.0 magnitude earthquake hit just outside the Ontario-Quebec border and people are reporting from as far south as Pennsylvania that they felt it. "That's considered a moderate-size earthquake. You'd expect to see minor damage in the epicentre area," said Sylvia Hayek, a spokeswoman for Earthquakes Canada, a division of the federal natural resources department.

In Fort Erie, the effects were felt sparingly.

"I went to lie down for a nap and the walls and windows in my apartment started to shake," posted Rina Brooks on the Fort Erie Times Facebook page. "I told my boyfriend to stop messing with me and he was like, 'I'm not doing that'."

Kristen McAlley, a former Fort Erie resident who was in Burlington at the time of the quake, posted on the page. "I was laying in bed and all of a sudden it started shaking. I jumped off thinking something was under it."

One person from Crystal Beach even said the quake lasted as long as about 30 seconds.

Some people are reporting things falling off of shelves, while others are saying they felt nothing at all.

"I'm on Gormham Road and didn't notice a thing," posted Sonia Hilliker Cote.

The earthquake had people around the epicentre in Buckingham, Que. evacuating their buildings.

Even some St. Catharines buildings were evacuated as well, with reports of cracked windows being the only signs of damage.

No injuries have been reported yet.

A geological fault line runs through the Oranva Valley. The last big earthquake in the region was in October 1998 when an earthquake measuring 5.4 on the Richter scale hit southern Ontario.

Support a local sports team this week

If you are a sports fan and a proud member of the community... there is no reason why you shouldn't support local teams. If you have to work, then that is acceptable.

The Niagara Hawks Senior 'B' lacrosse team and their highly successful 2009 season was highly publicized in the Times. This year, they are even better but the team hopes more people in the community will start to realize this and show their support.

The amount of support needed has two sides to it.

First of all, more fans are needed even though they average about 200 people for home games at the Leisureplex.

Secondly, the squad is anticipating another trip to the President's Cup this year. The only difference compared to 2009 is that it isn't a simple hour and a half drive to compete for it this time.

The most prestigious trophy in the sport at the team's competitive level will be up for grabs in August, but in British Columbia.

An estimated $40,000 is needed to make this possible for everyone on the team and there isn't a time where they need the support of the community more than now.

Start by heading down to their next home game on July 2 at the Leisureplex at 8:30 p.m., where they will square off against the Newtown Golden Eagles.

The Fort Erie Cannons men's baseball team is also in full swing and will be going to bat against the West Niagara Warriors on Wednesday at Oakes Park. The first pitch is tossed at 7:30 p.m.

-Kris Dubé

Do You Remember?

Unfortunately we received no calls about last week's photo of the students and their trophy. We did have a call from Jim Gregson about the previous week's picture. He said that the man identified as Trevor Matthews, Chief of Police was actually Karl Parr who was Mayor of Fort Erie in 1958. Wes Rogers stopped by to identify another man from that photo.

Front row, second from left, is Bill Duncan. Bill worked for CN and was Reeve of Fort Erie from 1949-61. A extra thanks to Wes for braving the construction and coming into the Museum with this information...especially since he mentioned that he was 98 years old! This week's photo shows a group of children and their leaders. The only clue we have is the name 'Barbie MacDonald' on the back. Who are they and what activity are they practicing? Is it soccer or the hokey-pokey? If you know, please call the Museum at 894-5322 or send an email to us at museum@forterietimes.com.

Being appreciated goes a long way sometimes

Kris Dubé
Editor's Notebook

It's feels great to be appreciated... it really does.

On Thursday, I attended Community Living Fort Erie's annual general meeting to take a photo of its new board of directors, who were freshly sworn in at the event. But also the meeting, the Times received a plaque of appreciation for our coverage of issues surrounding the closures of institutions for the disabled, which was published in 2009.

Anyone who has worked in the newspaper industry knows that sometimes you are given more grief than praise when it comes to feedback on stories... and this recent honour was very refreshing.

When we covered this issue, it was just a matter of us doing our job and not necessarily going out for any way for a favour or giving the organization special treatment. It was an important story and using our sense of news judgment, we paid close attention.

All that aside, it isn't very often we are put into the spotlight for the hard work we have done and again I must re-iterate... we are thankful that Community Living branches across the province are taking the time and effort to recognize the dedication and exceptional coverage newspapers have provided them with to promote programs and services they offer.

In recent weeks, the majority of feedback I've received about content in the Times has been positive and I am thankful for the comments I have been given. But also, some people aren't too pleased when their photo or story didn't make the cut.

This is a result of limited editorial space and not me giving people a "lip service," when I tell them to look forward to seeing their feature or coverage of their event in the next couple of weeks. When it comes down to it... some things don't make the cut. It's a reality of the newspaper industry.

Most people have been very understanding of this and some haven't.

I thank those who see where I am coming from and at the same time I totally understand the frustration others may have.

This is a good sign though, as it illustrates that Fort Erie is a small town that never stops.

We have so many great organizations here doing wonderful things, sports teams making waves, talented artists and musicians... the list goes on.

In no way am I complaining about receiving a little critical feedback from time to time, but people need to understand that during a tough economic time when less businesses are buying advertisements... the newspaper gets smaller. Some things are beyond our control.

Please continue to let us know what you think every week and don't stop letting us know about events taking place or people doing remarkable things.

If you would like to leave me feedback, call (905) 871-3100 ext. 207 or send me an email at editorial@forterietimes.com.

Review needs to take place after two years, says Russell

Yellow Shirts agree with motion made by Coun. Noyes at Monday's meeting

Dear Editor,

On Monday night I made a presentation to the Fort Erie Town Council.

We wanted them to see that we are keeping up with events happening in our town and to be there for Councillor Ann-Marie Noyes when she made her motion to council regarding the Niagara Health System (NHS)'s promised third party review.

The Yellow Shirt Brigade wants the NHS to honour that promise, as we feel it will show that our emergency department is a very necessary and vital element in our town for the safety of all.

Having thurgent care centre is better than nothing, but it really is a glorified walk in clinic, as they no longer have the much needed life saving equipment and staff available.

The doctors and nurses are trained professionals, but so many medical staff personnel have said that it is like working with your hands tied. It has to be frustrating to them.

The council voted to table the motion until a later date after the answer comes back from the minister of health regarding the extension of our two year agreement to a five year contract. A few council members feel that if we do not accept the extension that we will lose what little we have when our two years are up and that we have to take the extension now or lose it. Now, that sounds a bit like coercion or blackmail to me.

Not from our council member but by the position that the NHS has reached. They have shown their true colours all along and are not trustworthy and not quite honest.

Their own web site is not factual in many cases. Just go on the web and look at the Douglas Memorial Site.

Look at the Douglas Memorial Hospital Foundation and you will see it is so old some of the so called current members are deceased. This is on the NHS's web site!

One council member did not support the motion because he was torn between voting with his head or his heart.

He cited a case of a local person being admitted to palliative care in Fort Erie and being able to die with dignity and with his family around him.

This is not always the case, as we have also had loved ones die out of town and we have out of town palliative care persons die here in Fort Erie.

They are redoling our Palliative Care area and extending it. I tried to find out this week, just how many of our C.C. beds are going to be Palliative beds and if we are now going to be known as the hospital that you go to, to die. At the time of writing this letter no one has returned my call.

Monday's council meeting was disappointing as far as I am concerned and even after the mayor's impassioned speech, I was left with doubts as to the statements made and the validity of some of those statements. We have had a meeting with the members of the Douglas Memorial Hospital Foundation and they were open and sincere, and we believed them.

Maybe we could have a meeting with the medical group and listen to what they have to say.

Rollover on QEW

On Thursday afternoon, moments after a heavy rainfall, a driver heading south on the QEW escaped any serious injuries despite his vehicle overturning just before the Bowen Road exit. The Fort Erie Fire Department told the Times that the driver said a buildup of water caused him to lose control.

CAN PAINKILLERS DAMAGE HEARING?

If you think only lead music poses a threat to your hearing, you should know that recent research suggests that over-the-counter painkillers may cause similar damage, especially among younger men. This finding comes from a study in which researchers found that men under age 50 who took acetaminophen more than two times per week experienced about double the risk of hearing loss as non-acetaminophen users. Among the same age group of men, researchers also found that twice-a-week users of ibuprofen and other non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) had nearly a 60% greater risk of hearing loss than men who took NSAIDs less often. Among the NSAIDs, very high doses of aspirin are already known to exert toxic effects on the ears. Although hearing loss often goes undetected, it's actually one of the most common health problems in North America (only high blood pressure and arthritis are more common). And when we realize how many causes there are to hearing impairment, including medications, disease, high-decibel phonics and music players, aging, noise pollution, heredity, trauma, and smoking, it's to wonder the numbers are so high. If your hearing is not what it once was or what it should be, find out how good it could be at Head/An Balance & Hearing Clinic. Call us at 905-671-4242 to arrange a painless hearing test at 880 Glenora Road, Unit 12.

P.S. Aspirin, ibuprofen, and acetaminophen, the three most commonly used drugs in this country, may be responsible for the fact that hearing loss is the most common sensory disorder in the United States.

Ask a Business Counselor

Q: Why do I need to write a business plan?

A: A business plan is a tool for an entrepreneur to summarise their business concept and assist in gathering the necessary information to succeed. It explains how the business will be structured, the services being offered, the entrepreneur's capabilities, and how the business will be managed.

A well prepared business plan will provide financial lenders a clear understanding of the business venture's viability and how it will operate. A business plan should always be prepared by an entrepreneur. This process will assist the entrepreneur in achieving goals and keeping on track. The Business Success & Loan Centre Fort Erie (BSL) provides assistance with business plan development.

Ask an Accountant

Q: How can I get a fly-by-night franchise?

A: The current economy has many unscrupulous individuals considering self-employment. If you are in the market to establish your own business then to open the signs of franchises to avoid. Many have expensive concepts and offer little or no after-sale support. Watch for these red flags of fly-by-night franchises:

- The franchise is too eager to sign you
- The many points of a franchise agreement that can be negotiated
- A thin operational manual
- No teacher support for your team
- The franchise agreement seems strongly in favour of the franchisee
- Weak financial statements or none available
- Franchise will not divulge and numbers
- Other franchisees converted to corporate outlets

Ask an Automotive Service Technician

Q: Any tips for maintenance before we travel this summer?

A: The arrival of summer and nice weather also brings exciting road trips and vacations to life. Before you set off on your trip, make sure your car is prepared to get you to your destination safely and is stocked with the tools you'll need in case of an emergency. The first thing you should do is have your car checked out by a certified technician. They can identify and fix any maintenance and repair needs so you can avoid expensive repairs on your vacation. It's also a good idea to have someone walk around your car while you test and make note of all your lights and indicators are working properly, and replace any burnt out bulbs immediately to keep your vehicle safe and on the road. Taking the time to prepare your car before you hit the road less you travel worry free and focus on it!

Ask a Hair Stylist

Q: What would you advise for someone with thinning hair?

A: The easiest way to produce volume is through curl and layers. If your hair is naturally curly, adding some layers will allow life and fullness. You can also consider lightening your hair, therefore there is less contrast between your scalp and your hair. There is also a great Paul Mitchell Extra-Body line, consisting of Volumizing shampoos and conditioners, Extra-Body Sculpting Foam, Thicken-Up, Extra-Body Finishing Spray and many more Volumizing products.

Ask a Dentist

Q: Why do overweight children have loose canines?

A: Common to conventional wisdom, overweight children have fewer cavities and healthier teeth compared to their normal-weight peers, according to a recent study published in Community Dentistry & Oral Epidemiology.

Nearly 18,000 children participated in 2 National Health and Nutrition Surveys. The analysis found no differences in rates of cavities (tooth) among children aged 2 to 3 in all weight ranges, while children ages 6 to 18 who were considered overweight showed a decreased risk of cavities in their normal-weight peers.

The study's lead author expected to find more oral disease in overweight children of all ages given the similar causal factors that are generally associated with obesity and cavity. But the findings raised more questions than answers. For example, are overweight children using tools lighter in the oral cavity cavity-causing sugary like their peers similar to normal-weight peers, that are they brushing more necessary hygiene? Research to analyze both diet and lifestyle is needed to better understand the results.

Ask an Environmentalist

Q: What is a wetland?

A: Wetlands are areas where the land is wet either permanently or seasonally. The result is waterlogged soils and the growth of water loving plants. Wetlands occur along the edges of lakes, rivers and streams and in areas where water pools for at least part of the year.

Wetlands are transition areas (ecotones) that are biologically diverse. They are areas where land and water come together to provide a habitat for a large number of plants and animals. Some wetlands provide a unique habitat for a variety of species that live nowhere else.

Ask a Funeral Director

Q: What are Funeral Services doing to embrace technology?

A: Funeral establishments do this in various ways. From the basics, such as websites and computer generated correspondence to advanced in-house AV and DVD composing and some with technical forensics such as web broadcasting. Technology is an important part of creating and facilitating services that will allow people to grieve in the manner they choose.

Ask the Chiropractor

Q: My Doctor says I should start exercising to lose weight, but I'm afraid I might hurt myself. How can I safely start a workout routine?

A: The first step in beginning an exercise routine, especially if you have little or no experience in the weight room, is to get in contact with a health or fitness professional. They can show you how to use the equipment safely and design a program based on your needs and skill level. As you progress, the program can be adjusted to continually challenge your body, giving you a better workout. Start with light weights or no weights at all to get the proper technique. Slow, steady movements are best to work your muscles. Try to split your workout time evenly between cardio and weights. Although cardio with heart rate monitors, weights will slim and tone your muscles and increase your resting metabolism, creating a lasting increase in calorie burning. There are also supplements (and supplements, not the ones from the commercials) that can help to reduce fat stores and increase your metabolism. These won't work on their own, but can help boost the benefits of your workout program. The most important advice I don't give up. Persistence is key when trying to develop healthy lifestyle habits.

Ask a Restaurateur

Q: How does the HST affect the restaurant industry?

A: The new Harmonized Sales Tax (HST) commencing July 1st doesn't affect the way the restaurant industry operates. Goods and Services Tax (GST) and Provincial Sales Tax (PST) has always been charged. Unfortunately, this new "harmonization" of the two taxes will add to the cost of food. Only one tax was collected before now both will be applied as the cost of transporting food will increase and so will the cost of food delivery. Due to added financial pressure, consumers will be more aware of their spending habits. Further taxation, particularly with the US dollar and continued sluggish economy may put some restaurants at risk. In general, I am a very positive person, however this new taxation system will not help our economy or small business.

Fortunately, we at The Old Bank Bistro, are in a very good financial situation. Our continued loyal patronage is wonderful, but we don't take anything for granted. Q: What is the hottest trend in paint?

A: Colour Blocking is the hottest trend right now, as it opens up a whole new perspective about colour. If you're hesitant about taking the plunge to paint your room or even one wall a dark colour, simply 'colour block' which means painting 1 or 2 colours in different sized blocks on your wall. If you're on a budget, colour blocking can also be used instead of artwork.

Q: What is Spyware?

A: Spyware is a new phenomenon that has been surging since 2003 and continues to be a serious problem today. It is a term used for software that is installed without your knowledge, when you install other software. They operate like a virus, but are not categorized as one since they do not damage your computer. Spyware is primarily used to collect data about your internet habits, and report to unauthorized third parties. Malicious spyware may also be used to retrieve information from your computer such as credit and bank card numbers, passwords or other personal information. # Hawks have what it takes to go all the way

Team's GM believes he has one of top three groups in all of Canada

Kris Dubé
The Times

The Niagara Hawks Senior 'B' lacrosse team is the real deal.

The locally-based squad is on a roll in its 10th anniversary season, coasting into the final quarter of the season with a 9-1 record.

Thanks to a carefully orchestrated roster and high performances from league leading scorer Mike Longboat, and other players like Andrew Burkholder, Chris Janese and Justin Hill who are also among the league's top 10 point getters, the top prize in the country, the President's Cup, is only a few wins away.

The team has also recently added the skills of local resident Travis Hill, who spent five years in the National Lacrosse League (NLL) with the Minnesota Swarm, a few weeks before acquiring former NLL veteran goalie Mike Attwood, who played with a handful of teams in the sport's most elite circuit.

"I firmly believe we have one of the top three teams in Canada and that's something Fort Erie should be very proud of," said Hawks general manager Dave Colbourne on Tuesday evening.

“We definitely have some unfinished business to take care of.”

— Dave Colbourne

Colbourne said the message in the team's dressing room for the rest of the season is to continue performing at the same calibre and not to sit back and expect all the glory to come easily.

"It's easy to get complacent, so we want to stay on top of things," he said.

He admits last year was a good run, but knowing what it takes to win the President's Cup through first hand experience has made the team very hungry for the title.

"We definitely have some unfinished business to take care of," said Colbourne.

One of the biggest challenges the team still faces is raising money to fund the team's potential trip to the President's Cup, as it will be held in Burnaby, B.C. this year.

Colbourne is seeking individuals and organizations in the community that would like to help raise an estimated $40,000 needed to make the trip possible.

Anyone interested can email Colbourne at hawks-gm2009@hotmail.com.

On July 10, the Hawks will be hosting the Can-Am All-Star Game at the Leisureplex where they will remain as a full team, playing against a team consisting of the top players from the rest of the league.

There will be a handful of games taking place that day, including a women's match and a minor lacrosse game. All the action starts at 1:30 p.m.

Surveillance being considered to deter vandalism at playground

Matt Day
The Times

For the third time in less than a few months, the Cpl. Albert Storm Memorial Playground has once again been vandalized.

This time, a couple rings of the iron wrought fence guarding children from wandering onto the nearby roadway were kicked out causing nearly $200 in damage.

The incident happened somewhere between last Monday night and Wednesday evening as the Town's public safety officer Doug Atkins said firefighters usually inspect the area on a regular basis.

"Although it was a whole community effort and it brings a lot of people together, we like to think it's a part of our property. We've taken owner ownership to make sure everything is good and fine, but this is getting ridiculous."

The latest act of violence follows a failed attempt to burn a part of one of the tunnels back in April and just a couple weeks ago some graffiti had to be cleaned off the equipment.

Atkins said the fire department is now looking into video surveillance to prevent any more acts of vandalism at the Waterfront Park playground.

He said they are looking into night vision cameras and live feed cameras in order to keep a watchful eye on the playground.

"It's a shame it has to come to this. To have people who have absolutely no respect for other people's property which is widely enjoyed by members of the community is disturbing."

Luckily, some local businesses have stepped in to repair the fence at no cost which Atkins said shows just how much the playground means to the town.

The location of the park was questioned by some residents before it was erected in September as they were worried such acts of vandalism would occur due to the low-tilt area and its conclusion from populated areas.

"People were saying they thought it would get wrecked down there and it's disappointing to know that they may be right. We thought we had a great bunch of people in this community and unfortunately some idiots are ruining it for the rest of us."

If you have any information regarding the incident, contact the Niagara Regional Police.

Police seek male

On Saturday, June 19th, uniform members of the Fort Erie Detachment of the Niagara Regional Police (NRP) responded to a report of a sexual assault that had just occurred.

The investigation was joined by the Sexual Assault Unit and is ongoing. As a result of that investigation, the NRP obtained an Arrest Warrant for Daniel Cody Lindsay, formerly of Fort Erie. Lindsay, who is also known as Daniel Cody Elmes, is thought to be residing in the Hamilton area at the present time, but may still be in the Fort Erie area.

He is 26 years of age and is described as a white male, approximately 167 cm tall with brown eyes and short brown hair.

He has a number of tattoos, including a tattoo of a wedding band on his left ring finger and praying hands on his chest.

The accused is alleged to have sexually assaulted a 23-year-old Fort Erie woman who was known to him. He is also wanted for an alleged breach of a probation order.

Anyone with information about this male is urged to contact 911 or the uniform branches of the Niagara Regional Police at (905) 688-4111 or the Hamilton Police Service at (905) 546-4925.

Reward being offered

Last Mile Wireless Internet is offering a $1,000 reward for anyone who provides information to police for the arrest of those responsible for the recent abuse of animals at Happy Rolph's in St. Catharines.

The local business is also putting up a $500 reward for anyone who notifies police about who is responsible for shooting a cat with an arrow on Morgan's Point Road in Wainfleet.

If you have information about either of these two crimes, please contact the Niagara Regional Police at (905) 688-4111 or Crime Stoppers at 1-(800) 688-4111.

Thank You Cards

Thank You

We wish to thank our children and their families for ALL the work of planning and preparing that they did to make our 50th Anniversary celebrations so special.

We want to say thank you to our families, extended families, friends - old and new, and neighbours for the cards, visits, well wishes, phone calls, gifts, hugs, bouquets and to all of those who helped in any way to make our celebration a huge success.

Thanks to our wedding party for being with us, to Helen for yet another beautiful cake, to Harold for spending hours taking photos, to Joanne, Karen, Betty and Ann for all your help in the kitchen so that our family could enjoy the party. We truly appreciated all that was done out of LOVE.

Clint, you were missed, sorry you had to work.

It's a day we will not forget. Many memories were made and much reminiscing took place. Thank you so very much.

God Bless You All.

Love, Audrey and Gord Sims.

Thank You

We would like to thank all of our family and friends who attended our Anniversary Celebration at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Also many thanks for all the cards and good wishes, we appreciate it very much.

Best wishes to all from Tony & Elaine Groggin.

Noonan, John J.

If you get there before I do, don't give up on me
I'll meet you when my chores are through
I don't know how long I'll be
But I'm not gonna let you down, darling wait and see
And between now and then, till I see you again
I'll be loving you.
Love, me

It was with great sadness and sorrow to announce the passing of a dear Father, Grandfather and Great Grandfather John J. Noonan at Maple Lodge, Fort Erie. Dad passed away June 24, 2010 at the age of 89 years. He is now with the love of his life, his darling Alice (Young), during WWII for four long years and she has been waiting since 1991 to once again be with the man she loved. He leaves behind his sons and daughter in laws Tracy and Sandra of Port Colborne and Kevin and Maggie of Fort Erie. His Granddaughters will miss him with all their hearts Tracey (John) Croughn and Lori Noonan. Great grandchildren Montana, Hunter, Lauren and Jacob will always remember the Sunday morning breakfasts they had with their Grandpa. A tradition that blessed all of the family and will forever be missed. Dad was predeceased by sisters, Margaret and Patricia and brother Pat. He was also predeceased by many wonderful relatives from the Young side of the family. The family would like to thank the staff and management at Maple Lodge, Fort Erie for the wonderful care taken of Dad in his last steps of life. We truly appreciated it. We feel it important to also thank all his neighbors for their constant friendship and concern for Dad when he was still in his home. Dad served with the 157th Royal Canadian Field Ambulance RCAMC during WWII, and when the war was over he returned to marry Mom and they moved to Port Colborne. With the help of his brother in laws he built the house they lived in and where they raised their two sons. He lived in this house till he was 86 years of age and was very proud to do so. He worked at Inco until his retirement in 1977. He was a long term member of the Canadian Legion and The Knights of Columbus. Dad was a loving, kind, generous man who thought dearly of his family, his friends, and his church. He will be missed by many but will live forever in the hearts of the ones who loved and respected him. And now Mom and Dad are together, for always.

John's family will receive friends at the ARMSTRONG FUNERAL HOME, 179 Clarence Street, Port Colborne on Sunday from 2-4 and 6-8 p.m. Vigil prayers will be held on Sunday at 2:00 p.m. at the funeral home. The Funeral Mass will be celebrated on Monday, June 26, 2010 at St. John Bosco R.C. Church at 11:00 a.m. with Father John Croal officiating. Members of the Royal Canadian Legion Br. 56 Port Colborne will hold a service at the funeral home Sunday at 4 p.m. followed by the Knights of Columbus service at 6 p.m. Burial to follow in Mount St. Joseph Cemetery, in lieu of flowers the family request donations to a charity of one's choice. ## When School Ends

SAFETY BEGINS

Be Careful - School's Out

During the summer, tourists and vacationers add to the traffic which you would normally see on your way to work or to the shops and that is why it's so important to double your vigilance, especially in areas where children are present.

This message made possible through the generosity of these community-minded businesses.
